

We've enhanced paperless delivery with automatic opt-in.

Paperless delivery is a fast, free and secure way for your participants to receive information about their retirement account. Participants who receive electronic statements enjoy:

Enhanced speed

Password-protected and encrypted security

No documents to protect or shred

Mobile access via any web-enabled device

To streamline the paperless delivery experience, Nationwide now automatically enrolls any participant with an email address on file. Here's how it works:

- In addition to hard copy statements, Nationwide will begin sending electronic notifications to participants when their statements are available to view online.
- After two quarters, Plan participants will automatically transition to paperless delivery.
- Participants can opt out any time.

We believe most participants will embrace this change, and some may be ready to switch to paperless delivery right now. Please encourage them to do so by logging in to their online account at nrsforu.com and selecting “Contact Preferences.”

For more information, contact your Nationwide relationship consultant or program director.