Operations reported Eric Davis

We have some new residents and the village is clean and quiet. Commented that there is no fear of moving to the new village on 69th and proctor they are excited and prepared.

Case management reported by Marlon Dilworth and Tyjana Campbell

Currently 54 villagers 34 men and 20 women 8 couples

They have had 3 positive move outs! One couple with a very successful transition in life. Getting their child back while moving into their new place! Covid lift is helping with work, coordinated entry, ID's, social security cards etc. Also hen is opening up with community meetings. There is excitement with Covid opening up about move outs. Also there is new funding federal and city for families and individuals with disabilities and also the chronically homeless.

Nick Turner reported

They had cooling stations to help everyone get through the heat wave. They got ice popsicles water sprinklers to keep everyone as comfortable as possible.

Josh Castle reported

The new village is looking at 20 additional houses with 25 to 30 more individuals. He also mentioned there will be a new CAC meeting for this site. He extended and invite to all current CAC members to the new meeting. He also thanked all current CAC members for their amazing contribution and roles in the meetings.

Linda Silva commented about the great job the moderator did for the new village and answering questions. She asked where follow up questions would be answered.

Allyson replied it would be available within the next couple of days on the city's site. She also reported there is a possible open house for the site in august.

Josh thanked the city for getting all the information for the new site. Also for getting all the moving parts together.

Linda expressed her concerns for a specific client. Case management explained their biggest focus was to be sure no to let a vulnerable adult to get lost in the process because of it being a difficult case. Their goal is to get her all the services she needs to be successful And find a facility that can tend to her specific needs.

Rosie spoke her gratitude to case management for the way they treat their clients.

Needs for the village. Towels, Dish soap, Baby boy stuff, Crib, Basinet.

Next CAC meeting is August 9th @ 6-7:30 pm
