B. Items of Business

1. Thank you from Mayor Woodards (5:12PM)
   (Mayor Victoria Woodards, City of Tacoma)
   - Since term on City Council, we saw the need for this project; we received this innovative grant, and initiated the project.
   - Thank you for your service and we ask for your continued involvement. Your work is invaluable as we continue to review the Streetscape Design, the Equity and Empowerment results, and the related affordable housing action strategy.

   Brendan Nelson: Thank you for the work you’ve done for the City.
2. Introduction of Spaceworks & Creative Outreach Contract (5:30PM)
(Spaceworks, 40 minutes)

Diane Sheesley: Engagement in public works projects to this extent is not common; however, community engagement is crucial. This is a different type of project and Spaceworks is uniquely suited for this work.

Ashley Lipford: Can you elaborate on the distinction between art-based engagement and public art?
David Schroedel: Public art is intended to be there for a determined amount of time.

Kiara Daniels: How can we help you publicize?
DS: “We don’t know everybody, we don’t know everything.”

Chris Jordan: At the core is an equity lens; community engagement rooted in folks who have an awareness of the community.

Ann Mumford: Art of importance to the community at Tacoma School District Warehouse was destroyed.
CJ: Art and social practice. Workshop sponsored by the City. Building bridges. Diversity of cohort, opportunity is relatively open-ended to prioritize “artists” with roots in the communities.

Pastor Steele: What does “intervention” mean in these terms?
DS: Change what is happening in the street and get feedback through that change.

“Spaceworks has been incredibly helpful to the revitalization of the Hilltop. The energy from the wonderful people and their creative enterprises locating and growing in the business district has, and continues to be, a huge boost to the neighborhood!”
Kevin Grossman, Past President, Hilltop Business District

Spaceworks has been limber, energetic, and thorough, throughout an evolving process. I’m impressed by the creativity and resourcefulness Spaceworks brings to make meaningful contact with a big, diverse public audience given limited resources. They have provided excellent products – interview transcriptions, vivid photographs, videos – to support our work to ground our project in the community’s values and desires.
Calder Gillin, Associate, Walker Macy
Project Manager for Tacoma Theater District Placemaking / TRANSFORM

“Spaceworks is the cornerstone of our outreach process. They are highly tuned in to the local artist community and the community in general. They also just get things done, and their work and effort always exceeded my expectations and left me, and others, saying, ‘Wow!’”

The City seeks an organization to engage the Hilltop community in unique and nontraditional ways to gather input about and influence the Links to Opportunity streetscape design project, an enhancement to the Tacoma Link Extension Project. The selected organization will interpret and transform the input gathered into recommendations for design which could be incorporated into the streetscape design.
Did you hear about the Rose that grew from a crack in the concrete? Proving Nature’s law is wrong it leaned to walk without having feet. Funny it seems but by keeping its dreams, it learned to breathe the fresh air.

Long live the Rose that grew when no one ever cared.
